WASHINGTON CITY.

The Chinese Restriction Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb 7—The senate committee on foreign relations in accordance with previous individual promises formally authorized Chairman Hamlin to day to report back the senate bill for the restriction of Chinese immigration to be placed on the calendar with recommendation neither for or against. Hamlin in doing this, however took occasion to give notice that when the bill is reached for action by the senate he will move that it be indefinitely postponed.

Sargent thereupon put an enquiry to Hamlin to prevent any misunderstanding of the real significance of this notice and promptly developed the fact that Hamlin in giving it, spoke only for himself individually and not in behalf of the committee. Sargent then briefly referred to the great importance of the bill and said that every Pacific coast senator and representative, without distinction of party earnestly desired its prompt passage. He therefore gave notice that he will call it up for action next Wednesday.

Bills in Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb 7—The senate finance committee will order to be reported to the senate the house bill amending the internal revenue laws. The committee five to four recommend concurrence in the house provisions reducing the tax on manufactured tobacco to 16 cents per pound. The committee fix the tax on snuff at 24 cents, and [illegible] all provisions relative to the [illegible] cheroots and cigarettes [illegible] leaving them subject to taxation at existing rates, and strike out the provisions repealing the tax on matches and tobacco in the bonded warehouse clauses. The bill is further amended by the addition of a section to remit all taxes upon insolvent savings banks and to exempt from taxation $2,000 of each deposit made by one person or association in any savings institution.

The house has agreed to the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill and the house committee on Indian affairs has agreed to report a bill prepared by the Indian bureau for the transfer of Chief Joseph and others.

Cost of the Late Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Rice chairman of the pensions committee having discussed the question with Commissioner Bentley, concludes that not over $10,000,000 will be required for pension claims under the new bill during the coming year. The committee will probably report a bill for that amount.

THE CIPHER INVESTIGATION.

Manton Marble Before the Investigating Committee.

NEW YORK, Feb 7—Manton Marble was on the stand to day in the cipher investigation. He said that he could not say that he went to Florida under instructions of the Democratic committee had no conversation with Gov Tilden on the matter, thought he got the cipher from Pelton at the Everett House, and subsequently used it neither sent to nor received from Tilden, any telegrams addressed the dispatches to Pelton object in going to Florida was to take care of the electoral vote said that the ciphers published in the New York Tribune so far as [illegible] [illegible] himself were simply rubbish. Said he had already published a statement of what he did and did not do in Florida. Said what he did not do was to buy Florida's votes and that they were for sale. Mr Marble wanted to submit letters to the committee but Mr Reed objected, and they were ruled out by the chair. He said he had none of the telegrams which he sent from Florida. Of the dispatch from Tallahassee of Nov 16th, beginning "Use 140 cipher" witness said he had no explanation to give, remarking "I must confess there are a number of dispatches correct." Witness said he would like to explain telegram No 23. It was a dispatch to Pelton asking him to have documents circulated throughout the country by the aid of the press.

Mr Hiscock objected saying "The telegrams are here and I insist that they shall stand on their own merits."

Mr Stenger—The intention of this committee is to get at everything and my idea is every telegram every paper and every explanation should be admitted.

A vote upon excluding the documents or explanations resulted in Hunton Springer and Stenger voting for their admission and Reed and Hiscock against admission.

Telegrams 22 and 23 were then read.

This dispatch showed a belief that we should lose both states by fraud. Wooley delights in mystery where to others everything is perfectly plain. The telegram relating to the circulation of documents was read in full as follows

Nov 21 1876

Col Pelton, 15 Gramercy Park Try to have documents which associated press will soon receive to night sent over the country by Western New England and other agents. Pray stop sending any more people here, they delay business and take up more time than I can possibly spare in utterly needless consultation and palaver. Every new one needs education and the local knowledge I have been a week in acquiring. The business is all perfectly in hand and every point guarded. Heartily glad to see Perry Smith and Gibson of course who arrived to-day. Who is Paris? Judge Robertson returns home to-morrow. Everything looks well. MANTON MARBLE

The next dispatch read was as follows

TALLAHASSEE, Nov 27

Col Pelton 15 Gramercy Park You are imperiling the result here by causing divided counsel and neglecting to answer telegrams. I advise that you find one person to trust, and then trust him for at least one calendar week possibly two. I will stand in nobody's way and do my best to transfer to him my authority. About 100 majority on certified copies—Republicans claim same upon returns. Home needless now. I should be recalled. Harris and detectives always useless ditto Wooley here as in Louisiana, a nuisance and an impediment trusted by nobody. I decline to commit Tilden with a man so indiscreet. Smith concurs in all the aforesaid. The session has begun.

MARBLE

Witness testified that he had no recollection of this telegram and did not know who 'Rome' was. The translation is substantially correct.

LITERARY NOTES

M Edmond About is one of the few men to whom authorship has brought substantial reward. His new paper—the Nineteenth Century—pays him for his work as editor. He is moreover paid by the line for each article he writes and he has a large share in the journal's profits. His wife is a woman of great fortune.

The German public is not given to buying books. It subscribes to circulating libraries instead. It is not given to buying newspapers as the American or the English is. Berlin now has a population considerably over a million but its Tag Blatt, the most widely read journal in the city, has but a comparatively small circulation.

The London Times in a recent leader spoke of the Hebrew as "a language which possesses but a single volume of literature." A correspondent points out that there are 10 000 printed Hebrew books in the library of the British museum and that the catalogue of the Hebrew books and manuscripts in the Bodleian library is a small quarto eight inches thick.

A Berlin correspondent of the London Telegraph says Dr Busch did not have the consent of Bismarck when he published his remarkable book. What gave color to the story that he did have it was that the prince finding the work in press sent a friend to revise the proofs and cut objectionable pages out of it. But the work of excision was never done with sufficient completeness and the result has been that a great deal of the prince's frankness has been published to the world which was never meant to be repeated out of private conversation.

Littell's Living Age

No 1806 of Littell's Living Age for the week ending Jan 25 contains an installment of "Sir Gibbie" by Geo McDonald an article on [illegible] of Tales from the Gentleman's [illegible] Prince Bismarck Fortnightly [illegible] Contemporary Literature—Journal [illegible] Doubling Hart by [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] For fifty [illegible] of sixty four pages each [illegible] the price is low. CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate

WASHINGTON Feb 7

Hamlin from the committee on foreign relations reported back senate bill to restrict Chinese immigration of Chinese to this country and the committee was discharged from further consideration. He [illegible] reported back a bill for the same purpose and asked that the committee be discharged from its further consideration. [illegible] the bill be placed on the calendar. He gave notice that when the bill came up he would move its indefinite postponement.

Sargent gave notice that he would call the bill up for consideration on Wednesday next and spoke of the importance of the subject to the Pacific coast.

Hamlin Conkling Kirkwood Eaton and Morgan were appointed a select committee under the resolution of Matthews to examine the claims of citizens against Nicaragua.

The select committee on the prevention of epidemics reported a joint resolution for a committee to sit during recess and have three experts visit Havana and other places and learn the history of yellow fever. The resolution requests the cooperation of the Spanish government, placed on the calendar.

The following calendar bills were passed

House bill pensioning the widow of the late Capt. Thomas H Watkins of Maryland. This bill caused considerable discussion regarding the probable amount required for payment of pensions under the bill lately passed. Opinions were as varied as any yet expressed.

Beck said the commissioner of pensions told the committee on appropriations that twenty per cent of all pensions now paid are fraudulent.

McDonald moved to postpone pending and all prior orders for the purpose of taking up the house bill to relieve [illegible] political disabilities [illegible] men [illegible] nays 20

[illegible] that any woman who shall [illegible] member of the highest court of any [illegible] or of the supreme court of the District of Columbia for the space of three years and shall have maintained a good standing before such court, and who shall be a person of good moral character shall on motion and production of such record be admitted to practice before the supreme court of the United States.

After discussion the bill passed without amendment yeas 40 nays 10

House

The senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill were non concurred in.

The conference committee on the fortification appropriation bill reported disagreement and further conference was ordered.

Sparks submitted a report from the conference on the Indian appropriation bill which was substantially that passed by the house agreed to.

The conference report on the bill fixing the terms of the district and circuit courts of Colorado was agreed to.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the private calendar. When it rose a number of private bills were passed.

Although a night session had been ordered for reports of the committee on coinage, Dunnell moved to adjourn. Carried 69 to 57, but the chair ruled that not less than a quorum could set aside a previous order and declared the house in recess till 7:30.

Talmage on the Chinese Question.

Talmage appeared as the champion of the Chinese in a lecture last night. During his discourse he said that it seemed we were to fight over again the old battle of caste color and race. If the Chinese were not permitted to come ashore at San Francisco they would come ashore at New York, Boston and New Orleans. Nothing but annihilation of the globe could hinder them. Civilization has got under such swift headway that the democracy of religion was too broad and the world too old for it to be possible to build around the United States another Chinese wall. Come they had come they might come they would, and come they should. The day would never come when the gates of the country would be closed to them. God liked the Chinese physiognomy so well that he had made 400 000 000 Chinese, while he had only created one Kearney. In regard to the objectionable facial contour of the Chinese, Talmage remarked that he did not expect everybody to be as handsome as himself as there would then be a monotony of beauty unbearably dull. He wanted the Chinese as a background to set off his own attractions. He praised their workmanship and said

Let them come, there is room enough between the Atlantic and Pacific for everybody in this cauldron would I mix all nations until such broth was brewed as would poison unto death the world's last despot.

A meeting was held last night (Friday) at Albany to devise ways and means for securing the completion of the proposed narrow gauge railroad from Springfield in Lane county, to Albany and also effecting a junction with the Yaquina bay railroad.

The Gazette says Since it has become a fixed fact that the Oregon Central Railroad will be extended to Corvallis next summer real estate has perceptibly enhanced in value and is changing hands. Several new buildings will go up early in the spring and various improvements will be made. With railroad connection Corvallis is destined to be one of the liveliest and most desirable business places, as it is the handsomest, in Oregon.

A girl sixteen years of age, named Cody near Muddy Station in Linn county, attempted suicide a few days ago. She obtained a revolver and shot herself through the body. The girl became enamored of a man whose attentions her father had forbidden. Having been treated by her father with great severity she resolved on suicide. At last report it was not known whether the shot would prove fatal or not. But recovery was not expected.

Of the suicide of Charles Brailley the Corvallis Gazette gives a full account. He was 25 or 28 years of age and came last summer from Ohio. His father is represented as quite wealthy and had sent this son to Oregon in order to break off some love affair. So rumor says. He was expecting money with which to return home but it did not come. During the forenoon of the fatal day he wrote a letter home and upon returning from the post office gathered all his letters and papers together and burned them leaving not a line to indicate the cause of his self destruction. He shot himself in the head, and death was instantaneous.

Forsyth then called Mrs [illegible] who lived in the same house and with her assistance placed Mrs O'Brien on a bed. He then threw himself upon it and went to sleep. In the morning finding the woman still lying motionless he called in a physician who pronounced her dead. Forsyth went to the police office reported the case surrendered himself and was locked up. The parties had been living together several years as man and wife and according to Forsyth's account had led a cat and dog life the woman being very jealous quarrelsome and abusive.

Sale of Silver—The "Bucket Shop" Business.

The Bank of California has sold 250 000 ounces of fine silver to the government for delivery at the San Francisco mint at $1 [illegible] per ounce.

Bernard Laude and Edward Myers bucket shop men had a preliminary examination in the city criminal court to day on charges of embezzlement growing out of the collapse of the so-called stock exchange which they conducted. John Morgan W D Gamble and W C Rough testified to the way business of buying stocks on margin at ten per cent was conducted. For the defense of Laude and Myers, and Laker their bookkeeper testified that on the day the concern failed they paid out $3 500 and only received $1 500 and that they paid all they had. Judge Ferral in giving his decision, said the prosecution had not shown intent on the part of defendants to defraud. There was no doubt the bucket shop business they had been carrying on was wrong but it was not within the province of criminal law to punish them in the absence of evidence of intention to defraud. He had no doubt defendants were liable civilly, but criminally they could not be held. Laude and Myers were then discharged.

Even for this comparatively small column of only about 6 000 men supplies and carriage in gigantic cases have been collected and one cannot help wondering what would be [illegible] an army of 50 000 or 100 000. A TALK ABOUT GRANT.

What an Editor, who is no Admirer of the Appomattox Hero, says

[Cincinnati Correspondence N Y Herald]

[illegible] representative of the Herald had an interview with Mr Murat Halstead editor of the Cincinnati Commercial in regard to the candidacy of General Grant. On being asked for his views upon the Grant movement he answered

What the world [illegible] said Mr Halstead with certainty that the man to whom I refer would be the next president of the United States. That man was Grant and that [illegible] the politicians and managers of the party began quarreling and [illegible] in order to get control of him and use him for their own purposes. Grant was not much of a politician then. He is a better one now. But the result was he fell into their hands. They were thus enabled to make use of him to carry out their schemes and to help to make themselves money. This was plain to every thinking man who kept the run of events and it brought Grant's administration into disgrace. At the end of his first term I refused to support him and supported Greeley instead. I had not been an enemy of Grant—that is an enemy to him personally or in private—but I saw the way he was being run by those men was subversive of good government and for that reason I opposed his re-election. Grant is not a thief but the ring of whisky thieves and the other corrupt rings that surrounded him brought him into disrepute.

It was this ring influence in the Republican party that led to the formation of the liberal party of 1872 was it not

Precisely. That ring influence was traceable through both of Grant's administrations. By [illegible] his second term he had learned more of politics and was consequently [illegible] [illegible] control of it and keep it under. Still it continued to exist and when Grant's second term was about to expire I used what influence I had to help Bristow as being the one who most of all men in that party, had shown a determination to fight these influences and stand up for honesty in the government. These various rings I had observed were nearly, if not absolutely in control of the party. They were given opportunities for making vast sums of money and this enabled them to contribute more than all the rest to the support of their party and as they thought, gave them also the power to control its organization. This was apparent in the last presidential election when a railroad ring—I will not specify what men were in it, but simply that it was a ring managed in the interests of certain railroads—rolled a barrel of money into the Republican campaign fund that was an offset to Tilden's barrel and did more to supply their wants than all the other contributions besides. This was done in the belief that they could control Hayes just as Grant had been controlled by similar influences. But it was a mistake of theirs. When Hayes put Carl Schurz in charge of the interior department I knew they could do nothing further that way. Schurz is a man they cannot use. Not all the money in the world can move him from an honest administration of his department and their failure to use him for their purposes and the failure to use Hayes to their own advantage is what gives rise to 'stalwart' Republicanism. They cannot put their finger on a single thing that Hayes has done that is against the welfare of the party or the good of the country.

It is said that you have a personal dislike to Grant and his family—that you wrote bitter things even about his daughter?

That is not true. I never abused a member of Grant's family who was not in office. As for his daughter I admired her very much. I saw her at Long Branch when she was there with her father and I could not help admiring her manners and disposition. She was a sprightly little girl then. The report that I wrote harshly of her was an invention—purely so—used to blunt the edge of my criticism on her father and those he was then associated with.

"What are your views about Grant as a candidate for a third term?"

I can say of my own personal knowledge that he doesn't want to be president again. I consider it doubtful if he could be if he wanted to but I know he does not want it. I was in Paris last summer while he was there and when Marshal MacMahon addressed him as the field marshal of the United States he struck a cord in Grant's vanity or ambition rather. If congress would pass a law by which he could be made field marshal giving him a salary of $50 000 a year, and then allow him to retire on half pay with the honorary title and $25 000 a year the summit of his ambition would be reached. There are members of his family who want him to be president again and many of his adherents his old personal friends believe that he should be in order to give us what they call a strong government. And this brings me to speak of some of Grant's friends who are not associated with these ring movements first alluded to. Not all his friends are corrupt. He has many in Philadelphia and New York bankers and men of great wealth who out of the personal regard they hold for him, desire him to receive this further honor.

Such men as Childs and Tony Drexel and the Seligmans?

Yes especially such men as the Seligman and other capitalists whose connections are largely in Europe. They are abroad a great deal, and being close observers of events there they think they foresee the cloud of communism threatening our own country. This leads them to ask for a strong government, and naturally to look to Grant for it so that their fears are added to their kind feelings towards him in wishing his election. This class which is not large added to the other which embraces the old office holders and ring managers makes up in my opinion the Grant movement at this time.

Do you believe a Democratic congress could be prevailed on to make Grant field marshal?

I think they want to get rid of Grant as a presidential candidate that's the way to do it. If they're afraid of his being elected president again they'd better make him field marshal. That would dispose of him.

Do you believe he could be elected?

No I do not. Grant could not carry Ohio and the vote of Ohio is essential to the man who will be president. Why, right here in Cincinnati the vote of the state is determined. When Grant ran first he carried Cincinnati by 5 000 majority. The next time Greeley carried it by 5 000 completely reversing the thing. In a state that is as close as Ohio the vote in this city alone can change the entire result.

An Opinion on the Silver Question

[New York Special Jan 31]

Francis A Walker treating the causes of the failure of the monetary conference last year thinks the future course of our people should be to endeavor to restore silver to the place from which it was cast down by the action of Germany. We should stop the coinage of silver [illegible] accumulate silver bullion in the treasury to an equal or greater value than that of the coinage now required by law. To coin silver in considerable amounts at the rates of 1 to 15 is not to help but to hurt the cause. He gives little encouragement to the plans of unlimited coinage.

HACKLEMAN

Called and sworn and testified as follows

Q Your residence A [illegible] I might call it here. It temporary I don't know whether it is permanent.

Q Were you a member of the West Portland Homestead Association A Really I suppose that I am. I had forgotten about it until my attention was called to it a few days ago. I think I subscribed five shares of stock.

Q What was the value of that stock? A Originally I think the stock was a hundred dollars a share but after the stock had been taken by me and two or three others I understood it was increased but by what amount I don't know but I was told that on account of the increase of the value of the stock or rather of the amount of the stock they gave me 7½ shares on account of the original subscription.

Q What was the stock valued at in cash A Well I said before the subscription that I made to the amount of $500 I was to get 7 or 7½ shares of stock afterwards. So I was told.

Q Did you pay $500 on that subscription? A I paid my stock up.

Q You paid up A Yes sir.

Q When was the last meeting if you know of any meeting being held in the last three years? A I don't know. I have had no notice of any meeting since the first.

Q Since when? A Some time in 1875 I think.

Q Do you know anything of a loan being made by the board of school land commissioners to C M Carter from the agricultural college fund A [illegible] that [illegible] exhibited on the papers.

Q Did you make a loan from the funds in the state treasury in 1876 A I did.

Q Did you do so through the action of the board of school land commissioners A I think the loan I made was perhaps made from Mr Brown. I don't know whether any other of the board had knowledge of it at the time.

Q Was there any security given for that loan? A At the time I made that loan I made out a mortgage and filed it but it was about the time of the close of the legislature and I put it away somewhere. I intended to send it off but it was mislaid somewhere I don't know how and some time afterwards I think a year afterwards Brown called my attention to the fact that there was no mortgage with the papers. I said I was pretty certain I had made out a mortgage at the time the matter run on, but about the time the treasurer had to make out his report to the last legislature and when I made out an abstract etc of the notes in the office, I discovered that thing again and I was up to Albany a day or two before the legislature met and made out a mortgage there and had it executed before the county clerk. That is the way that thing happened as it was. It was always my intention to secure the state for the money I borrowed.

Q. Is there not a second mortgage on the land? A Yes sir there is another mortgage on the land in the hands of the local agent there in favor of the board.

Q Has there ever been any appraisement of this land by the school superintendent or any other person A I don't know whether there is. I think likely not. I don't remember as to that.

Q Since this mortgage has been executed does it not still reserve the right of dower? A Yes. My wife at the time I made that mortgage was quite unwell and I didn't want to trouble her about it. I considered the security ample anyway. I intend to pay it off in a short time anyway.

Q Do you know of the funds of the state being deposited at any time in Portland for the purpose of paying warrants or coupons, or any claims against the state in the hands of any person while you were clerk in the treasury department? A Well I know of one or two instances in which the treasurer of Multnomah county made a deposit with Ladd & Tilton I think. As to any private matter like that you will excuse me from making any answer because I don't think that comes within the province of this committee. As to any other public matter—

Q. Do you know of Treasurer Brown depositing any money in Portland in the hands of private parties? A. As I said before as to that you will have to inquire of somebody else. I decline to answer. Mr Brown's private business is his private business.

Q It is the opinion of the committee that that is public business? A Well that depends altogether on circumstances.

Q. Were you acting the last four years as clerk of the board of school land commissioners? A The board employed me to do certain clerical work for the board.

Q What was your salary for performing that duty A $1 200 a year.

Q What was the duty you were required to perform A My duty was more particularly to make out and record deeds examine the accounts of the local agents and make settlements for the state etc.

Q Did you perform that duty? A I did.

Q How much time were you occupied in doing that work? A Well I could not tell you. Between keeping the books in the treasurer's office and that I could not tell. It required a great deal of my time I know. Sometimes I was away from home a considerable length of time examining accounts and making settlements with the agents of the board in the different counties.

Q What was your salary as clerk for the treasurer of state? A That is a private matter between Mr Brown and myself.

Q You decline to answer A Yes, sir.

Q Did you receive any compensation whatever from Mr Brown for performing your duties as clerk of the treasury department? A That involves the same question as the other. No matter whether I did or not.

Q The shares that you purchased of whom did you purchase them? A Governor Grover.

Q Do you know of any loan being made the West Portland Homestead Association from the different funds in the hands of the state treasurer? A Yes sir. There was three different funds. They were borrowed all at the same time.

Q Did you as stockholder of that association receive any of the funds derived from that loan? A Not a cent.

Q Do you know who did receive them? A Well I know who got the money but don't know what disposition was made of it.

Q Who got it? A Mr Grover got the money.

S J CHADWICK RECALLED

Q Do you know anything about the organization of the West Portland Homestead Association? A No sir I don't know anything further than that articles of incorporation were filed in the office of secretary of state. That is all I know about it.

Q Do you know anything about the loan negotiated by that corporation? A All I know is by the record.

Q You were a member of the Board of School Land Commissioners? A I was yes sir.

Q Did you know that this loan was made at the time it was made A No sir I didn't know that loan was made until after it was made.

Q Did you know of the loan made to C M Carter on security [illegible] in Portland from the Agricultural college fund A When.

Q In the year 1876 April 6 A I don't think I knew it at the time it was made.

Q Was there a mortgage made to secure it A Yes sir. I might add to that however that one of the members of the board stated to me that he called my attention to the loan to the West Portland Homestead Association on one occasion when I was going down stairs, but my recollection of that conversation was another matter entirely.

Q Were you a member of the board of school land commissioners when the loan was negotiated to A Myers A Yes sir.

Q Was that loan made by the action of the board A I think it was understood yes.

Q Do you know what use was made of the money obtained by Myers A I don't. Not of my own knowledge I don't know anything about it.

Q Did you ever receive any money from Washington territory for keeping the deaf mutes A I think so. I don't [illegible] any particular case.

Q At any time from the governor of Washington territory A No I think not. That was left entirely with Mr Knight to correspond with the governor of Washington territory. Individuals have paid. The parents or mother of Miss McCarver have paid [illegible] I don't think the governor of Washington territory ever paid anything.

Q Did you ever burn any wood at your private dwelling that was paid for by the state A Not a stick sir. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] there paid for by the state [illegible]

Q [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Bryant & Taylor for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] expect to have to pay [illegible]

[illegible]

Q Did you ever draw [illegible] salary [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

Q Did any of them draw money that held the oath of office A Well I don't know [illegible] that we that now.

H H OATMAN

Being duly sworn testified as follows

Q State at what time the West Portland Homestead Association was incorporated and the amount of the capital stock of that corporation A It was incorporated in July 1875 and the capital stock was $? 000 in shares of $100 each.

Q State what number of shares you held A D [illegible] Hackleman & Oatman held one share.

Q You are a member of that firm A Yes sir I am.

Q What connection did you have with the organization of the company A I was elected secretary of the company.

Q Do you know who was the owner of the property immediately before the organization of the company? A I understand L F Grover was.

Q Has there been any meeting of the company held up to the time of your incorporation A There may have been one right soon after that, but I don't remember positively only the first meeting.

Q Do you know who was the principal stockholder in that organization? A I understood L F Grover was.

Q Do you know of any proceeding of the company relating to a loan of $10 000 or any other amount from the board of school land commissioners of the state of Oregon? A I don't remember of any proceedings being had of that nature. There may have been but I don't remember it.

Q What was property selling for in the West Portland Homestead Association's land by the block at the time of the organization of this company A I don't know.

Q What could it have been sold for? A I don't know of any one wanting to buy any there. I could not put any price on it.

Q Could property be sold there at that time? A We were offering property out of the Grover tract. I should think a half mile south on the Schull ferry road at from $150 to $250 an acre.

Q Did you sell any? A No sir there were no purchasers. We did not sell any.

Q Do you know the number of blocks contained in the West Portland Homestead Association's land? A I could not tell now.

Q Who were the stockholders in that company? A Well I remember of Hawthorne and Goldsmith. Gilfry held 5 shares, Hackleman 7½ and we had 1 and C M Carter 1 share.

J L ATKINSON

Being duly sworn testified as follows

Q State your residence and occupation? A Residence, Portland. I am a real estate agent.

Q How long have you been in the real estate business in Portland A About 12 years.

Q Are you acquainted with the property known as the West Portland Homestead Association property, otherwise the town property on the Carter estate A Yes sir in a general way. I am acquainted with it. I have seen a good deal of it, and know it pretty well.

Q What was that property worth per acre in 1875 A Well it could have been sold by the acre at one hundred dollars per acre easy enough.

Q. What is it worth now? A Well, it could be sold for that now.

H H GILFRY

Called and sworn testified as follows

Q Your residence A Salem.

Q Were you a stockholder in the West Portland Homestead Association? A I can't say I really was. I signed I think for five shares, but the understanding, when I did it was that I was not to be responsible and when they came to have a meeting I gave my proxy to Governor Grover or Hackleman. I don't know which. It was a good while ago.

Q. Were you ever engaged in purchasing warrants for Fleischner state treasurer? A No sir.

Q. Purchase any for Brown? A. No sir, never did for either of them.

Q Did you with others or by yourself own any school land or purchase any school land in Multnomah county near Portland? A I purchased a tract or two out of East Portland. I think almost immediately east of East Portland five six or seven miles.

Q. Purchase anything through other parties? A. No sir. I applied for it and got the deed myself right from the state. I paid for it what it was appraised at just the same as any other party would get it. Made a regular application.

Q. Was there any organization with yourself and Fleischner or any other members of the board to obtain land in any part of the state? A No, sir. No organization. Just any person when they wanted to buy land looked where they are to find out about them their value. What I bought I did open and above board bought and paid for it.

Q. Did you own any coal land in Coos county? A. No sir.

Q. In Curry county? A No, sir. I was talking about buying land down there once, but never done so. I don't know what was on them whether coal or timber, or what was on them. I suppose if I had done it I would have had a right to do it under the law.

THE SOUTHERN DEMAND

All correspondents and others at Washington who are looking after the political situation agree that the quarrel between Democrats of the north and south does not grow so much out of the desire of the southern members to get war claims paid as to secure great subsidies from the national treasury for public improvements Even these the Democrats of the north are not willing to grant Hence the wrath of the southern members who feel that as the seat of the party's chief strength is in their section this concession ought to be made They have judgment enough to know that direct claims for war losses are hopeless but feel that since they are forced to yield these their party brethren at the north ought to have generosity enough to come to their aid on subsidies and appropriations for a southern Pacific railroad Mississippi levees and other works in prosecution of which one hundred millions or so could be spent very profitably for the good of the suffering south But the northern members do not see it are afraid of political annihilation as a consequence of voting for such a policy and plainly tell their southern brethren that in the northern states where most of the taxes are paid the Democratic party can maintain its existence only by refusing to aid or sanction these schemes for building up the prosperity of the south at the expense of the national treasury

But these arguments do not produce the whole effect desired They do not mollify the southern representatives who continue to talk wickedly of the northern wing of the party A Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Times writes that there is a plan among the southern members to force their northern partisan allies into compliance He says that the ninety two southern members in the house Democratic caucus if they stick together can control the caucus fully and defeat every western and northern appropriation and it is advised that this be done Gen Chalmers of Fort Pillow fame who sits in the house for one of the bull dozed Mississippi districts is said to be the author of the plan which we are told is to say blandly to northern members who ask for appropriations of any kind — Certainly gentlemen but we want our levee bill first and we mean to vote squarely against everything for every other section until we get it. We regret very much that we have to take such a course to obtain what we are entitled to, but there seems to be no other way We have tried arguments but they do no good When we ask you to help us, you and your newspapers call our respectable entreaties for some assistance to keep the Mississippi river off our lands another southern job Therefore we have determined to vote steadily against every appropriation you ask no matter for what purpose until you give us the very reasonable relief we so much need And the able correspondent adds There is very little doubt that this plan would be most effectual if once put into operation Also that more than half the southern members in private conversation express themselves in strong approval of the plan and if they will only stand up to it in caucus it will be easily carried.

This is a situation which alarms northern Democratic politicians not a little That there is in it a good deal more than the conjectures of newspaper men is proven by the recent angry debates in the house It is a dilemma for the Democratic party If the southern members take this course and enforce the concessions they demand it will ruin Democratic prospects in the northern states and if they fail to enforce them but defeat necessary appropriations for the north, the odium will still fall upon the party and make it extremely difficult for more than a very few northern Democrats to gain seats in congress hereafter It is this situation that produces many apprehensions in the Democratic mind The northern Democrats cannot consent to the great southern grab-law even for the sake of needful northern appropriations

THE WALKER SWINDLE

A legal question arises which will very probably be tested in our courts soon It will involve a question as to the responsibility of the state in the $30 000 transaction of Chadwick Cann & Co with Walker, the California speculator Several persons (one at least in Oregon) have been swindled by the action of these officials of the state through the certificates falsely given by them and the question now is how far the state can be held to responsibility The clerk of the board of state lands certified that Walker had paid the twenty per cent required by law and Secretary Chadwick certified that the clerk was authorized to act for the board and that his acts were entitled to full faith and credit To this was attached the great seal of the state On these papers Walker succeeded in selling his filings for a large amount of money, reported to be about $48 000 Some of these filings were sold in California and some to a citizen of Oregon to whom Walker exhibited his certificates at Washington City

Thus the seal of the state of Oregon was made an instrument in the consummation of a great fraud A more scandalous piece of business was never transacted by any set of public officials It was presumed of course that the state had placed in its most important and honorable official positions men who had too much honesty to issue fraudulent papers under cover of the seal of the state to be used as instruments by sharpers to swindle persons who might have money to invest in lands for which the state invited purchasers But it was a mistaken supposition Thus by an act of official misconduct and rascality which has no parallel false papers under the seal of the state were hawked about and finally used to entrap and cheat innocent parties out of a large sum of money This is that honorable administration that Mr Grover defended in his senate speech We think it improbable that the state can be held for any of these fraudulent acts of its unfaithful officials but surely the parties who have been swindled ought to have a remedy against the officials themselves

Sometimes a fellow gets so low down in inveracity that he ceases to be a hound of detection and exposure This is the case of the [illegible] ninety dollar expert who doesn't scruple to reprint from a petty organ at Seattle with express approval a statement that the [illegible] has been taking as specials [illegible] dispatches not furnished through THE OREGONIAN and [illegible] not probable that it has been [illegible] The contemptible little concern at Seattle might through sheer stupid ignorance talk in this way since such a beggarly organ as it is would of course be utterly devoid of intelligence but it must make an enormous raft upon even the excessive cheek of the expert to repeat the statement knowing as he does that every person who takes notice of it is aware that it is utterly false The Standard gets no news specials it couldn't raise money to pay for ten [illegible] as [illegible] proved over and over again [illegible] clips from eastern journals and advances the dates for purposes of deception [illegible] a column or so daily of this kind of news and for the rest works over a portion of THE OREGONIAN's news of the preceding day And on this its claims as a newspaper are based Such a policy will never raise its circulation above three hundred

We have now an itemized account of the bill paid by the state to H H Gilfry Grover's private secretary for expenses of his trip to the eastern states It was paid out of the educational fund by order of Grover himself without a shadow of lawful authority and was a shameless fraud on the state It will be observed that the order of payment was made under color of an excuse of visiting Washington to urge and secure approval by the secretary of the interior of lands granted to the state under various acts of congress This was a ridiculously fraudulent pretext The object was not to secure such approval but to find a way of getting Gilfry's expenses out of the state Everybody may well laugh at the idea of sending a person of Gilfry's feeble incapacity to Washington on such an errand Of course he accomplished nothing It was a device to get public money for private uses and Grover's action in the matter was of a piece with his own raids on the school funds

Though Mr Watkinds essay on the report of the investigating committee was doubtless a good thing—in its way—it contains matters which are not pertinent to the subject under inquiry and which also are somewhat weakened by the fact that they are entirely incorrect For example Hon D P Thompson is not annihilated by the statements quoted from the Idaho World which alleged something very rotten in the matter of surveys of public lands in Idaho during his term as governor and which asserted further that out of $14 195 05 expended for surveys a brother of the governor got $14,800 80 and the governor himself got $14 648 41 As matter of fact Gov Thompson never received directly nor indirectly one dime for surveys in Idaho while he was governor That is the end of that matter Mr Watkinds was relying on bad authority But if the allegation were true it is difficult to see how it would help the case which has been made out against our delinquent state officials

Read the testimony printed to day and see if it does not fully justify what the investigating committee reported in regard to Grover's West Portland Homestead transaction — namely that it was a scheme gotten up expressly to enable him to get money out of the school fund for his own uses on very insufficient security

Wishing to enter into their inheritance at once Democratic politicians are demanding an extra session of congress, to be convened immediately after the fourth of March But the president is unable to see any good reason therefor. He thinks, in fact, that it won't hurt the brethren to wait till December next, since they have waited for twenty years past

---

Some impertinent ass writing in an organ which is just now devoted to advocacy of the cause of criminals misquotes THE OREGONIAN and then accuses it of "faulty grammar" Tony no doubt did that himself He is just such an authority in grammar as Cann is in orthography

SENSATIONALISM IN THE PULPIT

On this topic the North American Review for February has a most judicious and discriminating article which pursues a middle path of criticism equally removed from sweeping censure of all preaching that produces an effect upon the lighter senses, and from approval for the sake of sensation as a chief end and immediate result The following, at the threshold of the article is admirable

> We have more fear, on the one hand of that heartless intellectualism which, by its uniform appeals to the head, develops a cold moderatism that leads at length to a positive unbelief, and on the other of that tepid sentimentalism which in its method of proclaiming that "God is love" wipes out all moral distinctions and drugs conscience into sleep On each of the three sides of our nature the intellectual the moral and the sensational the preacher is in danger of yielding to that which it is his proper function to seek to correct and control and in proportion as the moral and intellectual are superior to the sensational the peril in regard to the former is more serious than it is in regard to the latter

This is followed by an attempt to present a definition of sensational preaching and here a difficulty is acknowledged as soon as an attempt is made to formulate the vague conception we have of the thing by putting it into words Nevertheless the effort in this case is so fairly made and so nearly successful that the reader must accord it praise Premising that a certain kind and degree of the sensational enter into all eloquence, the writer goes on to say

> The orator, whether in the pulpit or at the bar or in the senate seeks to persuade But in pursuing that main design he uses certain tributaries all of which are made by him to run into the swelling current of his speech He employs ridicule to expose the absurdity of his antagonist's position he uses pathos to enforce the appeal which he makes for the consideration of the weak he turns imagination to account by a harrowing description of the sufferings of those for whom he is pleading and at length by the united force of these influences he carries his position and secures the consent of his audience to the course which he has been advocating While he was dealing in ridicule his hearers laughed and that was a sensation When he was pathetic the tears coursed down their cheeks and that was a sensation When he set the miseries of the suffering plainly before their eyes they shuddered and that was a sensation Are we then to condemn all this? And if we do must not our censure lie against every triumph that the orator has won? Plainly therefore we must admit that the production of a sensation is not in itself an evil thing in eloquence and cannot be regarded as that which we designate sensationalism The mischief lies in the prominence given to the sensation as an end in and of itself and in the nature of the sensation as being out of harmony with the great purpose which every preacher of the gospel ought to have in view and with the associations of the place in which his discourse is given

Again this writer says We know indeed that conventionality may be so cared for that power will be destroyed and we have heard fears expressed lest the pulpit should die of dignity but that is no reason why it should be murdered by irreverence In order to escape the one extreme it is not necessary to run into the other and to prevent an audience from going to sleep it is not absolutely essential to turn the sermon into a midnight directory The idea is followed thus

> Perhaps the most insidious danger is in [illegible] by the preacher himself He is apt to [illegible] smart [illegible] the truth [illegible] he uses extravagant epithets [illegible] exaggerated descriptions and magnifies [illegible] distorts [illegible] for the sake of effect He who [illegible] exaggerates loses [illegible] the same time blunt the edge of his [illegible] Every [illegible] the real state [illegible] Truth the pride of [illegible] way to loosen his [illegible] and may some day produce the biggest sensation of his life by a terrible lapse

We regret we have no space for the whole of this excellent essay What we have given will however [illegible] criminating the article [illegible] it is so compact that even our liberal extracts hardly do it justice.

MAGAZINES FOR FEBRUARY

Bayard Taylor receives from Mr R H Stoddard not only generous but loving notice in a paper contributed to the February Atlantic Having been his friend since 1848 and owning many letters written by Taylor from many different places abroad Mr Stoddard adds to the pleasure of his style a great deal of information about our recent minister at Berlin which could be obtained nowhere else The biographer rates Bayard Taylor's genius very high Mark Twain's voice is seldom heard at present and it is well to note that his reappearance shows a finer edge than lately was the case The Recent Great French Duel is an excellent farce in which Mark Twain performs the part of second to Gambetta in the late ridiculous duel with De Fourtou It is broad but not broad for Mark Twain R G White writes an essay on Puritanism and Manners and William F Apthorp has a paper on Musicians and Music Lovers It is seldom that one hears so much common sense talked about music It might be called confessions of a musical man W W Story has a paper in first part on A Roman Holiday Twenty Years Ago and the special investigator of American social topics who has been contributing to this magazine describes in Career of a Capitalist a man whom he personally knows Other features of the Atlantic are characterized by their usual excellence

The leading article on foreign travel in the February Harper's relates to the mouth of the Amazons Maurice Maurice describes the scenery and inhabitants human and otherwise of the island of Marajo which takes in some sort the place of a delta to the greatest river of the world A little chart of the lower Amazons and a variety of illustrations give the ground plan and elevations of its architectural slang of this remarkable fragment of the Brazilian empire We read of the civil contests of the inhabitants and the breeding of countless wild horses we get pictures of typical sel lovas among the women of the upper classes and accounts of the fever stricken india rubber gatherer There is also an article with sixteen illustrations on the Sea by J C Beard another Ramble in the south of France by S G W Benjamin with twenty illustrations Winter Sports in Canada, with nine illustrations by I G Mather Mrs Muloch Craik's new novel Young Mrs Jardine is begun in this number There is a poem by Will Carleton Commodore Meade writes of Admiral Paulding John Esten Cooke of Moonshiners Horace Scudder of Industrial Education in this Country and there are many other interesting papers As for illustrations the number is unsurpassed

Scribner's for February has for a frontispiece a portrait of Emerson drawn by Wyatt Eaton and engraved by Cole The article on The Homes and Haunts of Emerson with many beautiful illustrations is written by F B Sanborn The Tile Club at Play by John Muir with many illustrations describes the diversions of a club of New York artists A symposium on the Chinese question is a burlesque interview with representative foreigners on this all absorbing topic The writer burlesques not only the subject but the newspaper interviewer as well and does the latter part of his work if anything better than the former Another curious article in this number is from the pen of E C Stedman on the subject of Aerial Navigation to which he has given more or less attention for many years It is hardly necessary to say that the illustrations in this number of Scribner's as in Harper's surpass anything known in periodical literature until very recently We had almost forgotten to mention an admirable article with valuable and much needed illustrations, on John Leech by Russell Sturgis

The North American Review for February has articles by Senator Hoar on "The Conduct of Business in Congress" by "Accountant" on "The Mysteries of American Railroad Accounting," particularly with reference to the Vanderbilt roads, by Gen Dick Taylor on George Mason a statesman of the Colonial era too little honored in our day by ex Governor Chamberlain on "Reconstruction and the Negro" by A Russian Nihilist on The Empire of the Discontented by O T Sherman on The Scientific Work of the Howgate Expedition by Dr Taylor on Sensationalism in the Pulpit", and by Prof T F Crane on "Medieval French Literature"

St Nicholas for February is admirable as usual Julian Hawthorne's fairy tale continues at a thrilling moment the moment that Prince Henry follows his ball inside Humpty Dudget's inclosure Tom the cat, arrives too late to save him from that hunchback villain and good fairies have to be brought to the rescue But the end is not yet Susan Coolidge begins in this number a story called Eyebright finely illustrated A little story of science is told the children by Prof D S Jordan in "A Story of a Stone" the stone being a kind of coral animal that lived in Wisconsin when the sea still covered the major part of North America M D Ruff discourses pleasantly on violins describing the rebeck the crouth the guitar shaped fiddle and other instruments Along with technical information on the violin James H Flint gives the history of one of its masters—Paganini—in "Little Nicholas, and How He Became a Great Musician" I L Beman recounts the origin of the jumping jack and the great charity instituted by the inventor and patentee of that popular toy Published by Scribner & Co 743 Broadway N Y

SCAFFOLD SHADOWS.—Notwithstanding the publication of a respite having been vouchsafed to Johnson and Brown, and a stay of proceedings granted to the two Chinamen condemned to death, quite a number of persons were yesterday gathered in the neighborhood of the courthouse in contemplation that the death sentence was to be, after all, carried into effect. During the day a rumor was circulated that Johnson and Brown had been quietly brought out of their cells and hanged, and the publication of the news of respite having been granted was only a ruse brought into service to prevent any excitement or the gathering of a large crowd. It is not definitely understood, as yet, whether the sentence of the murderers of young Joseph will be commuted to imprisonment for life or not, though a petition is to be circulated for such a purpose. In the case of the two Chinamen, a certificate of proper cause, and an appeal for a new trial has been filed in the supreme court, and under a rule of that court the case cannot be taken up until the next term, save by stipulation. Final judgment in the case is now in abeyance, and should the case go over until the next term of court, it will be several months before its final disposition, whether a new trial be granted or not. The same steps have been taken in regard to the case of Jackson Grant, lately convicted of murder, and with the others a further lease of life granted him waiting the chances for a new trial.

MR. ELIOT'S LECTURE.—The Vancouver paper says: "At the open temperance meeting Tuesday evening at the M. E. Church, Rev. T. L. Eliot delivered the lecture. Every seat and standing place in the building was taken, and a more enthusiastic and better pleased audience never assembled in Vancouver. The lecturer congratulated the society upon their energetic home movement in behalf of the great reform. He cautioned them against the usual extravagances which creep into almost all temperance societies, and urged them to the exercise of candor and fairness in their dealings with the enemy. He analyzed the spirit of fanaticism, giving it its just due and place in the inauguration of all reform movements, and closed with an appeal to everyone present to come and labor in the cause of temperance. He spoke extemporaneously in an easy, flowing style, and with the spirit of one who has thought deeply on his theme.

THE WEEKLY.—THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN of this date is an unusually interesting number. Besides full reports of the world's doings for the week, it contains the testimony, questions and answers verbatim, of ex-Gov. Chadwick and Thos. H. Cann, late clerk of the board of land commissioners, before the legislative investigating committee. The testimony of others with whose action the report prominently deals, will follow in future issues. Its local reports, too, are full and interesting and furnish much matter of interest to Oregonians abroad, and to persons wishing information about the state. Copies in wrappers, ready for the post, may be had at the business office for ten cents each.

DEATH OF DR. HALLOCK.—Dr. R. T. Hallock, father of Mr. A. B. Hallock of this city, expired at his residence in the city of New York, after an illness of but a few hours, on the 17th January, 1879. His remains were conveyed to Milton, Ulster county, and buried in the old family burial ground in the presence of a large concourse of the Society of Friends. Deceased was in the 73d year of his age.

TOMPKINS' LANDING.—This season a dock is to be built at this point, which is opposite Rooster Rock, on the Columbia river, the upper end of the route traversed by the steamer Traveler. It is also stated that Portland parties are going to build a store and put in goods at that place. The settlers thereabouts have long been in want of these conveniences.

TULALIP AGENT.—Mr. John O'Keane of Vancouver, recently appointed Indian agent at the Tulalip reservation, on Monday received his commission and instructions. As soon as he can settle important business on hand, by Monday probably, he will depart for Puget Sound to assume the duties of his office.

OPEN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—There will be more than the usual attractions at the meeting of the Open Temperance Society this evening at the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, to which all are cordially invited. Exercises will commence promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

LETTER LIST.—The following letters remain uncalled for at the express office: Timothy Cadigan, James Dunlap, G. H. Flett, Mrs. B. F. Goodwin, James Gravamslau, Mrs. Mary Heiss, John McCarthy, Wm. Post, A. Potter, Mrs. B. Phillips, N. Wertheimer, Horace Worcester, S. J. Watson.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—In mentioning the executive appointments recently made by Gov. Thayer, the types made us say that Mrs. Geo. Williams, of Salem, had been commissioned a notary public. It should have been Maj. Geo. Williams.

ELECTION.—The South Portland Real Estate Association recently elected the following directors: D. P. Thompson, W. C. Johnson and C. P. Church; J. N. Dolph, president; Joseph Simon, secretary; Jas. Steel, treasurer.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED.—By letter from Salem it is learned that the supreme court has granted a new trial in the case of John D. Whitney, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Oliver Hibert last fall.

SHOOTING MATCH.—A shooting match will take place at the five mile house on the Hillsboro road on the 22d inst. Shooting will be with rifles at 40 and 60 yards, and will be for pools, beeves, &c.

BETHEL SERVICES.—Regular preaching tomorrow at 2 P. M. on board the Corrientes, Capt. Jones, by Rev. E. N. Condit, of Astoria. All are cordially invited.

CRIME AND CRIMINAL RESPONSIBILITY.—Rev. Mr. Eliot will take this theme to-morrow evening at the Unitarian church. The public is cordially invited.

WILL SAIL.—The steamer Geo. W. Elder is announced to sail from San Francisco for this port this forenoon with freight and passengers.

APPOINTED.—Gov. Thayer has recently commissioned Mr. Paul Schulze of this city a notary public.

WILLAMETTE ROWING CLUB.

At a meeting of the Willamette Rowing Club, held last evening, the following officers were elected: President, C. H. Lewis; vice presidents, T. B. Trevett and W. M. Molson; treasurer, W. W. Francis; secretary, J. S. Dunbar; captain, J. Bourne, Jr; deputy captain, Harry Molson. General committee—K. J. Wilson, W. S. Sibson, H. W. Thielsen and Hy Dobinson.

The meeting was largely attended and a lively interest manifested. Several new members joined the club, among whom may be mentioned: Messrs. John Gran, Geo. A. Webb and John Viven.

On motion of Mr. Wilson, a vote of thanks was tendered the secretary.

After receiving reports from several committees and transacting some other business, the club adjourned.

NEW ARCHBISHOP.

BISHOP SEGHERS SOON TO ARRIVE AT PORTLAND.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

VICTORIA, Feb 7

Right Rev. Bishop Seghers, who is now absent on a pastoral visit to the west coast, will, upon his return to this city, proceed to Oregon, there to be installed as archbishop of Oregon in succession of Archbishop Blanchet.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE "CELEBRATED CASE."—Little Maud being fully convalescent the above play will be produced at the New Market on Monday evening. Since it was generally understood that the little one was liable to be around and no further danger threatening, the demand for seats has been resumed [illegible] by Monday evening every desirable seat in the house is likely to be sold. Many seats have been already selected for Tuesday night also. As the company has had ample time for rehearsals a most perfect performance is anticipated.

BRIEF NOTES.

Heavy rainstorm prevailed last evening.

New term of the circuit court next Monday.

Snow flakes were mingled with the rain last evening.

Sheriff John S. Sperry, of Umatilla county, will start up the river.

The steamer Idaho will sail hence to-morrow morning with freight and passengers.

A few more copies of the issue of the DAILY OREGONIAN of January 1st remain at this office.

No paper north of Sacramento will compare in any particular with THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

C. M. McCrarey, the pill and opium thief, will arrive from Astoria this evening in charge of Officer Hudson.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN, just out, contains Cann's and Chadwick's testimony in full before the investigating committee.

She asked him if her new dress wasn't as sweet as a spring rose, and the brute said it was, even to the minor attraction of having a little due on it.

The father of Capt. Jas. T Gray and A. W. Gray was recently quite seriously bruised by having a log rolled over him while at work on his farm near Astoria.

The union gospel meetings of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Baptist churches will be held in the Baptist church and continue during the week. Service in upper and lower rooms. Gospel Hymns No. 1 will be used. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

MILITARY ITEMS.

[Vancouver Independent.]

Capt. Evan Miles, 21st infantry, formerly stationed here, is visiting his friends at the garrison.

The Bannack and Piute Indian prisoners, clad in Uncle Sam's uniform, are being made useful working on the new roads at the post.

Major A. H. Nickerson, adjutant general of this department, has been ordered to duty in Washington. His successor here has not been announced.

Capt. Merriman, U. S. navy, and Col. C. L. Gillespie and D. P. Hancock, Capt. D. Perry J. S. Conrad and C. A. Dempsey, U. S. A., have been visiting the post during the week.

The officers of the post and their ladies enjoyed a pleasant social hop at the post reading room last Friday. Quite a number of invited guests from Portland attended, and a good time generally was had.

A detachment of sixty recruits, under command of Lieut. Totten, 4th artillery, arrived here yesterday, coming up from San Francisco on the Idaho. The men are destined for the 1st cavalry at Walla Walla, and will remain here till navigation on the upper river opens.

There were received this week at the U. S. arsenal here two breech-loading cannons of the Hotchkiss pattern. These guns are made of steel, very light in weight and simple in construction, and carry a projectile a distance of three miles. Being easily packed upon mules they are particularly valuable in Indian warfare, and Gen. Howard has secured these two guns—the U. S. government owning but five in all—to be ready for any trouble that may arise the coming summer.

THE STRASBURG CLOCK.—Few there are who have not heard of this ancient and famous piece of mechanism. It has been written about and described by hundreds of visitors, and its ingenious astronomical and automatic movements have made it the theme of conversation in all civilized lands. The history of the original inventor and maker is clouded in mystery, but the legend of his cruel fate in having been deprived of his eyesight to prevent him duplicating it for another church, is vouched for as an historical fact. The fac-simile of this famous clock, and the same that has been so favorably received through all the principal eastern cities from Boston to New Orleans, and lately of San Francisco where 45,000 persons visited it in its run of six weeks, is certainly a guarantee of its excellence and truthfulness, as a copy of the original, and it will no doubt in this city create a general desire on the part of all to investigate its many mysteries. It commences its first exhibition this evening at Halpruner's Dancing Academy at the very moderate admission fee of 15 cents.

IN A STATE OF SIEGE.—The public have found where to get furniture, elegant, substantial and cheap, and are flocking to Edwards & Birmingham's, where everything to make a home comfortable can be found. Come one come all! Corner Second and Yamhill streets, up stairs.

INTERESTING TO LADIES.—Dickey's "Creme de Lis" has now been before the public for ten years, during which time this beautiful preparation has met with the highest approval at the hands of the fair sex—being as all who have used it will verify, the only perfect preparation of its kind. Every ingredient entering the composition of Dickey's "Creme de Lis" is subjected to the most rigid test of modern Chemistry, to insure the uniformity and purity of its combination and neither time nor expense have been spared to make it perfect—it being well known the public will appreciate and support a truly meritorious article. Several new beautifiers under various names have lately started into existence, but Dickey's "Creme de Lis" has no competition in merit. Sold by all druggists.

LIFE FOR LIFE.

EXECUTION OF JAMES COOK YESTERDAY AT THE DALLES—HE DIED AS HE LIVED AN ENIGMA TO ALL.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE DALLES, Feb. 7, 1879.

James Cook was executed here to-day at 1 o'clock. He ate a hearty breakfast this morning and talked freely to everybody that came in to see him. He slept well last night, and acted like a boy let loose from a long term of school. A guard of ten armed men was posted about the jail at 12.30. Father Gauden, the Catholic priest, went to Cook's cell at 12.35 and remained there until 1 o'clock, when they walked to the scaffold, the priest first, followed by Cook, then the sheriff and deputies. Cook walked with a firm step, bareheaded, and was neatly dressed. On reaching the scaffold Cook and the priest sat down on the bench and Sheriff Crossen read the death warrant, after reading which, he turned to Cook and asked him if he had anything to say why the warrant should not be executed. Cook answered, "I have nothing to say." Crossen told him to step on the trap, which he did, and his ankles were strapped. Cook then took leave of Sheriff Crossen, Father Gauden, Sheriffs Norden and Schuster and Deputy Sheriff Haines.

At 15 minutes past 1 the noose was adjusted on his neck, Cook moving his head forward to assist the sheriff. He looked up at the sky with a calm smile and then the sheriff drew the black cap over his face, while he stood like a statue. At 17 minutes past 1 o'clock the trap was sprung and Cook fell three feet, dying without a struggle. His neck was not broken but the vertebra were dislocated. At 12 minutes the pulse ceased to beat and in 22 minutes the attending physicians, Morrison, Logan and Richardson, pronounced life extinct. His body was then cut down and given to his friends. Quite a number of spectators, including a dozen women, witnessed the appalling spectacle. Good order was maintained during the execution. Cook died as he lived, an enigma and his real name will never be known.

GOV. THAYER'S REPRIEVE.

The following is a verbatim copy of the reprieve granted Archie Brown and James Johnson, under sentence of death:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALEM, Oregon, Feb. 5, 1879

WHEREAS, Archie Brown was, on the 21st day of November, convicted, in the circuit court of the state of Oregon for the county of Multnomah, of the crime of murder in the first degree, and sentenced by the judge of said court to be hanged on Friday, Feb. 7, 1879; and

WHEREAS, Sufficient time has not elapsed since the decision of the supreme court rendered upon appeal from the judgment upon conviction of the said Archie Brown, to enable him to make suitable preparation to meet the doom the law has pronounced against him.

Now therefore, I, W. W. Thayer, Governor of the State of Oregon, by virtue of the power in me vested, do hereby grant a reprieve or suspension of the sentence which he, the said Archie Brown, is under for the murder of Louis Joseph, until the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Friday the 14th of March, A. D. 1879.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of state to be affixed, the day and date above written.

W. W. THAYER, Governor.

R. P. EARHART, Secretary of State.

The reprieve granted James Johnson is worded exactly as the official document published above, with the exception that the date on which Johnson was convicted and the date on which sentence was passed is different.

WHY GOV. THAYER GRANTED A REPRIEVE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In order that the people may not pre-judge the action of Gov. Thayer in the matter of respiting the sentence of Brown and Johnson we have good authority to say that the execution of the criminals was postponed at the instance of Hon. C. B. Bellinger and at the request of Sheriff B. L. Norden; and further, that the doomed men had only eight days succeeding the decision of the supreme court, until the day of their death, which certainly is not a great length of time under the circumstances. A Christian charity could dictate to the governor no other action.

CHIEF BESSER'S REPORT.

At the last meeting of the common council, the following report was submitted by the chief of police in regard to the number of city prisoners worked on the streets during the month of January:

Number of days in and around the city jail...31
" " " sawing wood...25
" " " cleaning streets...14

Total days worked...70

During the month 24 prisoners refused to work and were confined in the dark cell. Total number of days confined, 35.

GOOD ADVICE.

During this cold, dreary weather, the air we breathe is impregnated with a malaria which is certain to effect the liver, stomach and bowels, causing them to become inactive, torpid and sluggish, accompanied with catarrh, cold and coughing. You become billious, suffer from headache, cold sensation and a general feeling of despondency predominates throughout the entire system.

It is then you require the services of the great regulator, PFUNDER'S OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER, to stimulate the action of the liver and kidneys, remove catarrh and coughing, warm up the blood, clear the stomach of bile, and set all things to rights again. Try it. For sale everywhere.

We cannot be too careful, when exposed to malarious or miasmatic poison, to guard the system at every point against the approach of so dangerous a foe. A dose of Frese's Hamburg Tea, taken at intervals of two or three weeks, or oftener, will ward off this insidious foe, and keep the system in the best possible condition to resist its future approaches.

It is Abject Folly

To let the teeth perish for want of proper care. Yet how many totally neglect them. Such people are properly punished by the toothache. Why don't they use SOZODONT and insure one of the greatest boons conferred on mankind—a good set of teeth.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

POVERTY IN PORTLAND.

It has always been proudly, and until very recently, truly said that instances of extreme poverty and its consequent distress never occur in Portland. Our population has always been so small that a case of want was soon known and immediately relieved. Hundreds of warm hearts, directing as many full pockets, have always been and even now are ready to relieve the suffering. At this time, however, many men who, during the summer, found employment in the building enterprises then in progress, are without the means of earning money, and many sad cases of want are reported. Friday morning a woman whose appearance and address gave proof that she had known more prosperous days, called at the office of Judge Rice and asked him if he could employ her husband at sawing wood, or at any work by which he could earn money to buy bread for their little ones. She said that for several weeks past he had not been able to get work of any kind, though he had tried faithfully to do so, and that to-day themselves and their children were hungry and without food or the means of procuring it. A gentleman present gave her an order by which her husband could get work, and the poor woman departed, her moistened eyes telling of her grateful joy for the favor. Another circumstance, showing the demand for work in this city, was related to-day by a gentleman who is building a residence in the western part of the city. For a small task of digging, which will probably require the labor of one man during half a day, there have been in two days seven applications. It is indeed a matter for wonder why hundreds of people will live in a city, sorrowing out an existence of misery and want, when within a hundred miles there are broad, fruitful acres which, without a dollar of money capital, will produce in profusion the necessaries of life, free to all.

DR. C. M. WOOD.

Leaves from the Diary of this Great Healer.

TWO MORE HELPLESS CHRONIC CASES CURED IN ONE FAMILY, HUSBAND AND WIFE—TWO MORE FINGER BOARDS ERECTED TO POINT THE SUFFERING THOUSANDS OF THIS COAST TO A GENUINE HEALER, WHOSE CURES ARE ALWAYS PERMANENT, AND WHO NEVER FAILS TO CURE EVERY CURABLE DISEASE OF WHATEVER NAME OR NATURE.

The following cases were treated over 8 months ago, and both were complicated cases of Rheumatism and Paralysis, and were beyond the reach of medicine, more especially so, as both were old, and the vital forces very much depleted. The permanent cure of these two sufferers in one short week's treatment is most respectfully dedicated to the thousands of hopeless sufferers on this coast, hoping that they may go and do likewise. Permanent office, southeast corner of Front and Washington streets, Portland, Oregon:

AURORA, Oregon, Jan. 10, 1879.

Dr. C. M. Wood: I wish to make the following statement: I had suffered great pain in my leg from inflammation for four years, and therefore could not rest. In this condition I received eight treatments from Dr. C. M. Wood, magnetic physician of Portland, and up to the present time I feel well and can do my work, which before treatment I was not able to do.

CATHERINE BOEHRINGER.

AURORA, Oregon, Jan. 10, 1879

Dr. C. M. Wood: I wish to make the following statement: I had suffered from rheumatism for five years, and finally was paralyzed in my right shoulder and arm. In this condition I received eight treatments from Dr. C. M. Wood, Magnetic Physician of Portland, and up to the present time I feel well and can do my work which before treatment I could not do.

CHRISTIAN BOEHRINGER.

For the Kidneys and Bladder, Damiana Bitters. Fleckenstein & Mayer are sole agents.

CATARRH.—This most prevalent and least understood of all diseases is most skillfully treated and permanently cured by Dr. James Keck, 135 First street, Portland, Or. Call and see the Doctor if you have Catarrh. He charges nothing for consultation.

To Physicians and Patients.

Call on Dr. Edward Henderson, Vitapathic Physician, N. E. corner First and Yamhill street, Portland, and have an Electrical Cranial Diagnosis made, which never fails to locate disease of any of the vital organs. Physicians, no matter how skillful, cannot always determine the exact location of disease until, in too many cases, it is beyond control. Dr. Henderson also cures all manner of disease by the use of Magnetism, Magnetic Herbal remedies and Electricity, and is remarkably successful in treating most of the so-called surgical diseases without the use of the knife or other surgical instrument.

CHILDREN DO NOT DIE of the croup to whom DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS is administered. Parents will do well to remember this fact and keep a medicine, which saved so many lives, in the house ready for an emergency. The Balsam overcomes a tendency to consumption, strengthens weak and heals sore lungs, remedies painful and asthmatic breathing, banishes hoarseness and cures all bronchial and tracheal inflammation. If you have a cough use it "early and often." All druggists sell it. Beware of imitations. Ask for Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and take no other.

SUPREME COURT.

FRIDAY, Feb. 7.

G W. Moore, appellant, vs C S. Miller, respondent.

This is an action upon a promissory note for $1,-[illegible] 67, executed and delivered on the 4th day of August, 1874, payable to the order of the cashier of the First National bank of Idaho and due in sixty days from date.

SYLLABI.—When A gives a promissory note to B as collateral security for the payment of the note of C in consideration of extension of time, with the understanding that it is not to be paid unless C fails to pay his note at the expiration of the time to which the payment thereof was extended, it was not error in an action to recover on such note to instruct the jury that it rested with the plaintiff to prove that both notes were due and unpaid. B must produce the original note of C and establish the fact that it is due and unpaid before he can maintain an action on A's note. Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Prim, J.

The State of Oregon, respondent vs John D. Whitney, appellant; appeal from Marion county. Judgment of the court below reversed and a new trial ordered. Opinion by Kelly C. J., Boise J. dissenting. Full opinion to-morrow.

Ben Holladay, respondent, vs S G. Elliot et al, appellants; appeal from Marion county. Motion to dismiss appeal overruled, and cause set for hearing on Tuesday next.

James Jones guardian of E T Jones, an infant, respondent, vs B. Dove, appellant; appeal from Benton county. Motion filed to dismiss appeal.

Gus Matasce, respondent, vs George H Hughes, appellant; appeal from Linn county. Cause argued and submitted.

POLITICAL JACKALLS.

When a candidate for State Senator, the political opponents of Dr. R. V. Pierce, in their efforts to overcome his great popularity, and being unable to extract "smut" from the doctor's unsullied record, arranged with the party jackalls to drag the doctor's celebrated Family Medicines into the canvass and publish pretended analyses of same. So absurd were the formulas given, and the base charges made, that the editor of the Commercial Advertiser, after a careful investigation, says: "I asked a distinguished dispensing druggist to explain the secret of the almost universal demand for Dr Pierce's Medicines. He said they are in fact genuine medicines, such as every good physician would prescribe for the diseases which they are advertised to cure." Such indorsements, together with the doctor's election by an unprecedented and overwhelming majority, and his enviable record since made as an active, wise and sagacious legislator, has been a just rebuke to his petty traducers.

DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM

Works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, are cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back, side and loin are cured, when all other medicines have failed.

See what the druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills.

We have sold a large amount of Dr Mintie's medicine, the English Dandelion Pills; also the famed Nephreticum, and in all cases highly recommended. John A. Childs, druggist, Second street, Portland, Oregon; C. H. Woodard & Co., Druggists, cor. First and Alder, Portland, Oregon; Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, Druggists, No. 3 and 5 Front, San Francisco. "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy before the Public." All Druggists keep them.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

For Biliousness and Dyspepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

Every family should not fail to keep the Dandelion Pills on hand.

Dr. Mintie's Remedies will not "Cure all Complaints," but will give immediate relief and perfect cure in all cases, if taken according to directions, which they are recommended for.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine is the GERMAN SYRUP cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all druggists.

AVOID A COSTIVE HABIT OF BODY, not only because of the attending discomfort, but lest it engender more serious consequences. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills are either Laxative or Cathartic, according to the dose, and may be depended upon to produce healthy secretions of the Liver and Stomach.

Reasonable Figure.

Love.

How sweet when love pervades the breast,
And all our actions guide:
'Tis this that makes us truly blest,
When by a dear one's side.

Love's Confession.

Oh! let it's truth by her confest,
Sink deep within thy heart,
With thee alone shall I be blest,
Till call'd with life to part.

Forget Me Not.

I crave one little favor,
Oh! be it not forgot:
'Tis this: while memory reigneth,
Dear friend, forget me not.

True Love.

A love that's firm, a heart that's true,
My dearest one, I offer you.
Oh, do not you the offering spurn,
But give affection in return.

Remember Me.

Remember me, whose fervent love
Is true to thee as heaven above;
Whose heart thine own will ever be;
Then, dearest one, remember me.

Thine Forever.

In vain, in vain,
Love's mystic chain
To break would I endeavor.
Then let me own
I'm thine alone
Thine, dearest one, forever.

Good Wishes.

Oh, smooth be thy path,
And unclouded thy sky,
And joy and prosperity
Ever be nigh.
May hope go before thee
And love walk beside,
And peace hover o'er thee,
Whate'er may betide.

Remember Me.

Remember me, thou leav'st behind,
Whose heart is warmly bound to thee.
Close as the tend'rest links can bind,
A heart as warm as heart can be.

To One I Love.

Oh, how beautiful is love,
Sweetest earthly treasure,
Learn it of the tender dove—
May it be thy pleasure.

Good Wishes.

Oh, may thy way through life
Be like the Summer tides,
On which the white-winged bark
With tranquil motion glides.
May every joy be gained,
And every hope fulfilled,
As gains the bark her port,
When stormy winds are stilled.

DR. D. HALL McLENNAN,
Vital Magnetic Healer,
Is now permanently located at
153 Fourth St., Corner of Morrison,
PORTLAND, OREGON,

Where those who are sick and need a physician should call on him, as he is performing cures by his natural powers of healing that has baffled all other methods of treatment. Invalids who have hitherto tried everything in vain should take courage, and leave off taking nauseating drugs in which are lurking the arrows of death, and try the living principles of Vital Magnetism, nature's mysterious gift to man. No medicine is used except when upon examination it is actually found to be wanting, and then only Herbal remedies, containing no mercury, calomel, or other poison. By this wonderful power of nature pain is removed in a few minutes, and broken down constitutions built up in a short time.

Physicians having in charge cases that resist the potency of drugs will confer a blessing on such by recommending them to this GREAT HEALER.

To parties not able to appear personally, he will send Magnetic paper and medicine with full directions.

Consultation either in person or by mail is free. Consult him, as it may be the means of restoring you to health and happiness.

The Doctor has permission to refer to the following well known parties who have been treated by him: A. H. Buckman, East Portland; A. S. Miller, of Messrs Miller & Sons, office cor. First and Morrison sts., Portland, residence, Salem, Oregon; E. P. Isaacs, Walla Walla; Morrison C. Athey, attorney at law, Oregon City; Mr. Geo. Harger, Portland. Many more might be given but space will not admit. Over 100 endorsements and references can be had upon application at my office.

All sick persons while from home and in Portland under my care are most tenderly watched over, and nothing is left undone which it is believed will tend to make their stay pleasant and their recovery rapid.

Invalids desiring rooms with the attention of competent nurses can be accommodated at my MAGNETIC INSTITUTE, 153 Fourth st., 2d door from Morrison, where I can be consulted daily, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. ja23

CALIFORNIA
ROOT TEA!
The Reliable Cure for Chronic Complaints of Liver and Kidneys.

THE ONLY THOROUGH BLOOD CLEANSER. The most pleasing, grateful and satisfactory Strengthening Balsam known, constantly effecting surprising cures of wasting or debilitating diseases and complaints arising from weak or impure blood, feeble circulation or impaired digestion, when all modes of treatment fail. Is of great benefit in threatened or actual consumption and heart disease, owing to its peculiar and great influence on the circulation. For the ills and weaknesses of women it is Nature's most suitable and reliable remedy.

LIVER--KIDNEYS.

Its regulating and strengthening action on these organs is different to and more desirable than that of any article heretofore in use; for indigestion, billiousness, etc., as a tonic, anti-malarial, etc., it is unequaled, while in chronic complaints it gives relief when all other remedies fail, and is frankly acknowledged to be the only cure for many chronic complaints of a complicated nature.

CATARRH.

The success of the CALIFORNIA ROOT TEA in curing Catarrh is proverbial, and surprises many who do not understand the nature of this terrible disease, which in most cases can be permanently cured only through the blood by a thorough course of this vegetable remedy, conceded to be the only thorough and permanent blood cleanser known, a course of it completely eradicating for all time the most virulent types of blood and skin diseases, rheumatism, etc. All who use it [illegible]. Sold in its truly vegetable form, in packets at $1; each packet makes a quart of rich balsam of which the dose is two [illegible] three times daily, making its cost much less than other medicine. Make like tea or put in wine, etc.; pleasant to take when nicely sweetened. It is Nature's life-bearing balsam—its success assured in advance in all cases. Ask for it and take no drugs or disguised mercury. Six pkts. $5 00. Wholesale by HODGE, DAVIS & CO., Portland, Oregon.

HALL'S
HEPATIC KING!

CARLOS

Last eve I knelt low at my lady's feet
One soft caressing hand played with my hair
And one I kissed and fondled Kneeling there
I deemed my meed of happiness complete

She was so fair so full of witching wiles
Of fascinating tricks of mouth and eye
So womanly withal but not too shy
And all my heaven was compassed by her smiles

Her soft touch on my cheek and forehead sent
Like little arrows thrills of tenderness
Through all my frame I trembled with excess
Of love and sighed the sigh of great content

When any mortal dares to so rejoice
I think a jealous heaven bending low
Reaches a stern hand forth and deals a blow
Sweet through the dusk I heard my lady's voice

"My love" she sighed— my Carlos Even now
I feel the perfumed zephyrs of her breath
Bearing to me these words of living death
And starting out the cold drops on my brow

For I am Paul not Carlos [illegible]
That in the hour of love's supreme [illegible]
Veiled by the shadows of the falling night
She should breathe low his name forgetting me

I will not ask her 'Twere a fruitless task
For womanlike she would make me believe
Some well told tale then sigh and seem to grieve
And call me cruel. Nay I will not ask!

But this man Carlos who soe'er he be
Has turned my cup of nectar into gall
Since I know he has claimed some [illegible] or all
Of those delights my lady grants to me

He must have knelt and kissed her in some hall
And tender twilight when the day grew dim
How else could I remind her so of him
Why miseries like these have made men mad

He must have felt her soft hand on his brow—
If Heaven was shocked at such presumptuous wrongs,
And plunged him in the grave where he belongs
Still she remembers—though she loves me now

And if he lives and meets me to his cost
Why, what avails it I must hear and see
That cursed name 'Carlos' always haunting me
So has another Paradise been lost.

THE DEAD ALIVE

In the town of Kilmare in the north of Ireland, reside many families of distinction The head of one of these was a Mr Bell a young gentleman of twenty five He inherited a large estate from his uncle and soon after removed from his former abode to take possession of his family mansion in Kilmare He married the only child of a wealthy East India merchant residing in Liverpool, by whom he had two children In the fourth year of their wedded life Mrs Bell was taken suddenly ill and expired the next day The symptoms were of a peculiar nature and the limbs so increased in size immediately after death that a magnificent diamond ring of great value could not be removed from the lady's finger and was buried with her. Of course this fact was well known to the inhabitants of Kilmare, as Mrs. Bell was the wife of the most considerable man thereabout, and naturally, therefore, all concerning her was matter of conversation and rumor

The old churchyard of Kilmare stood on the side of a hill, and immediately in rear of the church and adjoining the chancel was the tomb of the Bell family. Here, in accordance with immemorial usage, the body of the deceased lady was to repose, and there it was deposited the third day after her demise. After the ceremony the key of the vault was put in its usual place by the sexton, in the vestry of the church

The day had been gloomy, and as night drew on a thin rain fell, which increased at about midnight to a smart shower Mr Bell, who was about retiring, went to an open window, and as he did so fancied he saw a white figure crossing the lawn in front of the house. The next moment it disappeared, and, satisfying himself that he was the subject of a delusion he commenced to undress. Suddenly the clear tones of the door bell rang through the building Mr. Bell paused, and moved toward the door of apartment to listen. In a few seconds the sound again reverberated through the house and Mr. Bell opened the door and stepped out into the corridor At that moment, as he glanced down the stairway, he saw the housekeeper moving toward the front door. Then he heard her set the small lamp she carried on the table, and open the lock and bolts of the massive door. Then a dreadful and prolonged shriek followed, and at the same moment Mr Bell's butler ran along the hall toward the front door. Mr Bell had reached the head of the stairs, and was in the act of descending when the butler reached the spot where the housekeeper lay on the floor apparently in a swoon. What was Mr. Bell's surprise to see the butler raise his hands, fix his gaze upon the door and then sink to the floor as though struck dead

Utterly bewildered and dumbfounded, Mr. Bell hastened down stairs. The sight that met his gaze when he reached the center of the hall almost froze his blood There stood the figure of his wife in her grave-clothes, leaning against the pillar of the door with one hand thrown across her breast. For a moment Mr Bell was almost overcome. Then he remembered the white figure he saw crossing the lawn only a few seconds before the bell rang, and another glance showed him that the garments of the figure before him were dripping with rain.

"Julia, my darling, my wife!" Mr. Bell exclaimed, and stepped toward the figure,

It made a movement toward him and the next instant it was enfolded in his arms The scene that ensued baffles all description It was indeed the wife but that day buried who was restored to the arms of the bereaved husband and children The explanation which she offered was very imperfect and unsatisfactory For a short time after her supposed death she was aware of all that went on around her, but before she was placed in the coffin she lost all consciousness, She said the first sensation of consciousness she had was of pain Then she saw an indistinct glimmer, and finally a severe pang shot through her frame With a powerful effort she rose, and saw a woman standing by her side. The woman shrieked and fled, and then Mrs Bell discovered that she was lying in a coffin in the family vault Fresh strength came to her every moment, and releasing herself from the shroud she stepped to the ground and passed out of the vault, the door of which was wide open Down the churchyard she passed to the main street, along which she walked for half a mile, until she reached her late home. Fortunately the large gate to the park was unfastened, and she hastened up the roadway to the dwelling. She rapidly regained her health, and lived to a good old age

But who was the woman who stood by the coffin, when the corpse suddenly arose and started her into sudden flight.

Next day the lamp was found extinguished on the floor of the vault It was identified as one which usually stood in the vestry and was used by the sexton It had doubtless been removed at the time the key of the vault was taken Beyond that all was mystery.

The object of the woman however, was easily discovered. As already stated, Mrs Bell was buried with a valuable diamond ring on her finger. Finding it impossible to remove it, the daring thief had raised the hand of the dead woman to her mouth, and in her attempt to withdraw the ring with her teeth caused the pang which went through the frame of the evident victim of a trance and roused her to consciousness On the finger, just below the ring the mark of the teeth were discovered visible for several weeks after Mrs Bell's resuscitation.

Every effort was made to keep this remarkable circumstance a secret from the gossip of the neighborhood, nevertheless every exertion was used quietly to ascertain who the robber of the tomb was The general impression was that the garb of a female was assumed as a disguise, and that the depredator was in reality a man, and probably a professional body snatcher

It was thought the remarkable circumstances attending Mrs Bell's supposed death had aroused the desire of some medical expert to possess the body for the purpose of an autopsy that he had employed a person to steal it and that the body-snatcher discovering the valuable jewel, had resolved to gain possession of it for himself

Soon after this extraordinary occurrence the vicar of the parish resigned his living, and removed his family to England Several years passed away and the incidents herein recorded were almost forgotten Mrs Bell's father died, and Mr Bell and his family quitted Kilmare and took up their residence at Toxteth near Liverpool

And now for the sequel

During the Chartist riots in 18[illegible]0 James Binns was arrested for murder and lodged in Lancaster jail He was tried convicted and sentenced to be hanged Before the last sentence of the law was executed he made a confession of many crimes and among the rest of his exploits as a professional body snatcher in which business he had been engaged for many years The following facts are taken from his confession

In July 1820 he was living in Belfast having fled from England to escape punishment for his offenses He had done him, and told him he had a very delicate piece of work for him to perform A Mrs. Bell a lady of great beauty, and the wife of a rich proprietor had just died of a very peculiar disease and the doctor and his associates desired the body to investigate the cause of death The doctor paid him so much money down and dispatched him to Kilmare with such instructions as were necessary He was to secure the corpse and a coach would be ready at the church yard gate in which there would be two assistants who would be ready to assist him at a given signal

He went to Kilmare on the day of the funeral at which he was present He examined the lock on the vault door and was satisfied that he could easily remove it At midnight he went to the churchyard armed with a wrench a pair of shears and a [illegible] First satisfied that the coach was in waiting, he entered the churchyard and proceeded to the vault The night was dark and the rain was falling, Creeping up by the side of the church he approached the tomb of the Bell family To his surprise he saw that the door was open and a faint light burning in it Stealthily drawing near, he glanced in He saw the coffin lying along the marble slab and in front of it a woman was standing. A second glance showed him that the woman was at work trying to remove a ring from the finger of the dead

A sudden thought struck him and slouching down he reached in at the door with his shears which he brought to rid the corpse of its cumbersome shroud he cut a piece from the woman's dress and retired unobserved As he remained for an instant peering into the strange scene to his horror and astonishment he saw the corpse arise and raise the hand which the woman was apparently in the act of putting to her mouth

The woman gave a shriek, rushed through the door and fled, leaving the lamp burning on the floor The body snatcher guessed at once the woman's design and impressed with the conviction that she was above the ordinary rank he resolved to follow and see where she went to

He had no difficulty in tracking the rapidly retreating figure It passed out of the church yard at a small wicket on the north side of the church, and entered the parsonage Satisfied that he possessed an important secret out of which he could make money, he returned to the vault The light was still burning and he signaled the men in waiting They were soon on the spot, but on entering the vault they discovered to their utter amazement, that the coffin was empty The body snatcher kept his secret and the mysterious disappearance of the body was a matter of unmixed surprise Extinguishing the lamp the men quit the church yard the body snatcher returned to his quarters in a small inn, and the assistants went back to Belfast in the carriage

The next morning the news of Mrs. Bell's restoration to life was abroad in town The body snatcher lingered in the neighborhood until he ascertained that the clergyman had quitted home for a friend's house, then he called at the parsonage, and asked for the lady of the house It was with some difficulty that he obtained an interview as the domestic informed him that the lady was indisposed and confined to her room.

"My business," he said, "is of very great importance and it is absolutely necessary that I should see her

After the lapse of half an hour a middle-aged, handsome, stately lady entered the parlor, and gazing with considerable dignity at her visitor, said

"What is your business with me, sir?"

"Let me shut the door, ma'am," he said, and quickly stepping behind the lady, closed the door "I think we have met before, ma'am" he said in a firm but respectful tone

"Sir!" the lady exclaimed in offended accents.

"I am sure we have met before ma'am, the man said

"You are mistaken, sir" the lady replied "utterly mistaken, sir you will oblige me by quitting the house immediately

"You forget last night ma'am, in the vault," the man said in a low tone.

The cheek of the lady evidently blanched, and she gave a gasp for breath Instantly recovering herself, she said

"I don't understand you, sir You are laboring under a mistake"

"Well, I may be" the man replied "that's a fact but my impression is that I saw you last night in the vault when you were trying to remove the ring from the figure of what you supposed to be a corpse."

The lady had sunk in a chair and was deadly pale By a powerful effort she overcame her momentary weakness and said in a strong tone "I don't know, sir, what you speak of. You are either laboring under a mistake or you are a lunatic."

"Do you happen to have a dress like this, ma'am?" the man asked, drawing from his pocket the piece which he had cut from the dress of the occupant of the vault the night before

The lady's lips grew white and dry She tried to speak but her tongue clove to the roof of her mouth, and utterance was impossible

"I am responsible, madam," the man said "I know your secret, but will keep it if you will make it worth my while

"How much do you require?" the lady asked, acquiring the power of speech by great effort

"Twenty pounds down will satisfy me for the present," the man said, "and more at another time when I need it"

The money was paid, and within a month the man returned and demanded more The lady evidently revealed the story of her disgrace and crime to her husband, for he paid the money, and soon after resigned his living and retired to England

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
Chronic and Private Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases. Catarrh Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
